DR. HALL'S

BALSAM

Cures Colds, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, and all diseases of the Breathing Organs. It soothes and heals the membranes of the Lungs, inflamed and poisoned by the disease, and prevents the night sweats and tightness across the chest which accompany it. CONSUMPTION is not an incurable malady. It is only necessary to have the right remedy, and HALL'S BALSAM is that remedy. DON'T DESPAIR OF RELIEF, for this benign specific will cure you, even though professional aid fails.

Dr. M. H. Hinsdale.

Kewanee, Ill., advises us of a remarkable cure of Consumption. He says: "A neighbor's wife was attacked with violent lung disease, and pronounced beyond help from Quack Consumption. As a last resort the family was persuaded to try HALL'S BALSAM. To the astonishment of all, by the time she had used one-half dozen bottles she was about the house doing her own work. I saw her at her worst stage, and had no idea she could recover."

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Some unknown person fired into a Democratic procession at Washington, Ohio, last Saturday night, and instantly killed Harry Wilson, a spectator. No arrests.

General Walker's investigation of the manner of taking the census of South Carolina has convinced him that wholesale frauds have been perpetrated. The evidence is sufficiently conclusive to warrant prosecutions under the law.

The Baroness Burdett-Countess, who has set her heart on marrying Mr. Ashmead Bartlett, is ill in consequence of her friends' remonstrances. The alien clause in the Duchess of St. Alban's will cannot, it is said, apply in the case of Mr. Bartlett, who, his friends urge, is in effect an Englishman. There is a prospect of a run on Coutts' Bank in consequence of the expected withdrawal of the Baroness from that concern.

Arizona is soon to have her first railway mail service. How the old settlers down there must be astonished at the progress of the past few years, in various directions. Fifteen years ago, when they were patiently waiting for the country to "come out next Spring," the ambition in of a dispirited old mule, with a small mail-bag over his sore back, was the best service that was dreamed of. And, if the mule didn't arrive the old boys wisely concluded that "the Injuns have got 'Bill.'"

"Col. Thomas Hart Benton, for thirty years a distinguished United States Senator from Missouri, and who was a Titan among the intellectual giants of his day," writes a correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette, "would never allow his name to be used as a Presidential candidate, because, while a lad at college, a $20 bill, which had been lost by one of his fellow-students, was found upon his person, concealed in his cravat."

The Director of the Mint has prepared a circular, which he is distributing as widely as possible throughout the country among manufacturers and users of gold and silver metal of all descriptions, for the purpose of obtaining as definite information as possible upon which to base an estimate of the amount of these metals consumed in arts and manufactures in the United States.

An Eastern politician of some note says that he has never voted for a President, and has not seen a ballot box for fifty years. And he seems to mention it with a boastful air, too—more shame for him! A man who doesn't care a copper how his country gets along, is a very poor specimen.

Palaces are not always enviable. The Czar's Winter Palace at St. Petersburg is an unhealthy place about dinner time, and the Quirinal and Vatican at Rome, with deadly drafts and miasma, keep King and Pope in an ailing state most of the time. Perhaps poverty is a blessing after all.

Gen. Grant was called on for a speech at a Republican meeting in Galena, Ill., and made a short address, in which he hoped to see Galena give a larger majority than ever for the Republican ticket at the coming November election.

The new census gives Kentucky a gain during the past ten years, of more than the previous thirty years; Virginia more than in the previous fifty years, and South Carolina more than in the previous seventy years.

Barnum insists that Indiana will go Democratic, and no fail. He has gone out there to "buy mules," and he thinks the drove he well own on election day will be "the greatest show on earth."

"We repeat," says the Jacksonville Sun and Press, "that if the people want immigration and prosperity they must make Florida a Republican State."

The Postmaster-General has issued an order to the effect that Congressmen must write their names when they avail themselves of the franking privilege.

Garfield is not afraid to talk to the people, and tell them his views, while Hancock is as dumb as an oyster, and dares not leave his castle.

Does Hancock want the Solid South

PRESIDENT HAYES.

Reno will be honored to-day by the presence of President Hayes, and it is the duty of every lover of his country to extend a cordial greeting to him, not only because he is the Chief Executive of the nation, but because he is deserving of it as President and as a private citizen. The administration of President Hayes will go down to history as one of the most pure, if not the purest, in the history of the country. During his term there has not been a single defalcation; every dollar of public money collected has been honestly accounted for. The crowning feature of the administration has been the resumption of specie payments. There has not been a bad act anywhere, and the President is deserving of the gratitude and good will of his constituents.

The annual report of the Chief Signal Officer of the United States Army has just been received. The work is in every respect the most valuable ever gotten up by that special branch of the military service, and shows the great progress that is being made in the work of investigating atmospheric phenomena. Among the most interesting portions of the work are the charts showing the state of the atmosphere over as much of the Northern Hemisphere as corresponding observatories are located. It is to be regretted that the work of encircling the earth with a chain of observing stations should meet with such drawbacks as are experienced in obtaining meteorological data from vessels sailing in the Pacific. The United States is ahead of any other country in the world in the science of meteorology for where else can it be said to be more practically applied?—and it should therefore be the duty of every American shipowner to aid in pushing forward the great work of oceanic observations. On local phenomena we find one very interesting paper, the report on the South Carolina tornado by Sergeant H. J. Penrod. The report is accompanied by several plans of the district with the peculiar movement of the tornado traced thereon.

The telegraph failed to bring the news of the death of Judge Henry M. Spofford, of Louisiana, who died on the 20th of August. His body was taken from New Orleans to Cincinnati, where the funeral was held, when the remains were conveyed to Pulaski, Tennessee, for interment. In 1877 Judge Spofford was elected to the United States Senate from Louisiana, receiving the almost unanimous vote of both parties in the Legislature. It will be remembered that Wm. Pitt Kellogg had been previously elected by the bogus Legislature. The Senate permitted Kellogg to take the seat still pending. Spofford was 59 years of age. He was a graduate of Amherst College, and since 1840 has been a resident of New Orleans. For years he was on the Supreme bench of Louisiana, and was counted one of the ablest jurists of the country. His death will probably leave Kellogg in the Senate until the expiration of the term, March 4th, 1883.

The Republican Party and its Nominees for President and Vice President.

(S. F. Chronicle, June 9th.)

The great work of the Chicago Convention was completed yesterday by the nomination of James A. Garfield of Ohio for President, and Chester A. Arthur of New York for Vice-President. Its nominees and platform are now fairly before the country, and the people are busily engaged in their examination. The hot blood and sometimes angry speech engendered in the ambitious struggle between contending forces will soon cool off and be forgotten in the more intense heat and angrier speech of the campaign which is to decide whether, after the 4th of March, 1881, the Presidential office shall be filled by a Republican or Democrat.

Differences of opinion there are, indeed, between Republicans, relating to the tariff, internal taxation, the currency, the civil service and foreign policy. But they are of such a character as easily to admit of compromise and adjustment without harm to the nation or disintegration of the party. And there is no reason in the world why any one of the eminent citizens whose names were presented for the highest office in the gift of the people should cherish the least animosity against the successful candidates, or carry in his heart a shadow of grievance against the Convention or the party. Political parties can only be held together by virtue of honest, patriotic, intelligent principles and submission to the will of the majority without factions opposition.

The National Republican party has no cause to feel ashamed of her history. No political party of modern times ever achieved as grand results. The Commonwealth of England marred its work by relapsing into a dictatorship; the first Republican government of France buried itself in blood and infamy; and the last one of the same nation is still on trial and involved in doubt. The Republican party of America rounded out the labors begun in 1775-76 by converting millions of slaves into citizens, and the labors of the framers of the Constitution by suppressing a most formidable rebellion, set on foot by Democratic leaders for the purpose of erecting a slave empire upon the ruins of the Union, and by making a repetition of the attempt in the future impossible. Under the four consecutive Republican Presidents, who have held the executive power of the Government from the 4th of March, 1861, to this day, the country has prospered beyond the degree experienced in any preceding twenty years of its life. And this, too, in the face of the fact that the first four of these years were exclusively given to the sorrowful business of civil war and destruction. In fifteen years after the close of that war more than one-fourth of the enormous public debt it entailed has been paid off, and a paper currency that at one time had sunk from fifty to sixty per cent below its face value has been restored to par with gold. The agricultural productions of the country are now more than 200 per cent greater than they were at Lincoln's first election. Its foreign commerce, internal trade, manufacturing industries, extent of railways and mining resources have all in the same years and under the benign influence of Republican principles and rule, expanded as they never did in any preceding twenty years of the nation's history. The national credit that under pro-slavery Democratic rule was as low as that of the poorest State, has been elevated to an equality with that of the foremost Powers of the earth; and it would have been easier at any time since 1875 for the Government to float a loan of $1,000,000,000, bearing 4½ per cent interest, at par, than it would have been under Pierce or Buchanan a loan of $20,000,000 at 10 per cent.

That there has not always been clear weather and fair sailing is true. That every Presidential adviser has been throughout all these years honest and faithful to his trust no one can say; nor that corruption has not shown its hideous face among Republicans in Congress. Black sheep there are in every large flock. The Chronicle has done its share in the work of culling them out and exposing them to public censure. But it never forgot, and will not now forget, that, as a whole, the National Republican party has remained faithful to the people and true to its original principles. If at times, it has had its rings of mean and selfish officials, intent upon plunder, it is worthy of note that the great party and its journals and ablest leaders did not sustain them, but exposed and branded them, and drove them into obscurity. When the Buchanan Cabinet ring of traitors and speculators were plundering the property of the United States intrusted to their care, for their own use or that the uses of rebellion, the Democratic papers and leaders concealed their crimes, and they did the same in later years with reference to the Tweed ring in New York City. We know of no prominent and reputable Republican journal that sustained the bad cause of Babcock, Belknap, Williams, Boss, Sheppard, or any of the corrupt ring that infested the Capitol during Grant's administration.

The mission of the National Republican party is not yet fulfilled. It should not die until it is fulfilled. It must secure to the colored people of the South equal political rights with white men. It must see to it that the amendments to the Constitution resulting from the civil war shall be as honestly observed and enforced in South Carolina, Georgia and Louisiana as they are in Massachusetts, New York and Pennsylvania. The election of a Democratic President next November would endanger all that the country has gained upon the score of liberty, union, and the rights of man. It would cause a reaction similar to that which took place in England after the death of the Commonwealth and the restoration of Charles II. The Democratic party, by means of its "Solid South," already dominates both houses of Congress. This power has made it aggressive, and in thought at least, as obstinate in defense of the principles which led it into rebellion as it was in 1861. Jefferson Davis and Robert Toombs, when they disdainfully shook the dust from their garments and quit the Senate to prepare for a conflict for precisely the same ideas which are now being prepared by Lamar, Singleton, Vest of Missouri and Butler of South Carolina. They have never acknowledged anything like a change of heart in the South; and their vote against the use of Federal protection of the negroes' right of suffrage are in fact so many defiances of the power of the United States Government to make good the guarantees solemnly given by the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments. That they will dare to attempt the restoration of African slavery in its old form we do not believe. That would be a palpable insult to the spirit of the age which all civilized nations would resent. But there can be substantial slavery without the old form, and this theory will not hesitate to enforce by means of local legislation and non-interference of the Federal Government and courts. Given to them both houses of Congress and the Presidential office, what is to stay them from pensioning the Confederate on an equality with the Union soldiers? From legalizing hundreds of millions of bogus claims for the loss of property by their own acts of treason? From crippling and remodeling the Federal District and Circuit Courts, and even the Supreme Court itself? And from filling all the four-score thousand offices of the republic with Confederate Generals, Colonels, Captains, Lieutenants and privates? To assert that these are merely imaginary perils is to assume that human nature does not so change. Revenge, office, power are as sweet to the beaten hosts of Democratic traitors as the same passions were to the legions of Rarius and Sulla, or to the monarchial and aristocratic ghouls who exhumed the bones of Cromwell and armed the cruel Jeffreys with authority to destroy every Englishman who had opposed the tyranny of Charles I. and the treason of his black-hearted Prime Minister, Strafford. It will not be safe to trust the Government to the hands of a party so insidious in design, so jealous of State right, so thoroughly sectional, so bold and unrepentant, not to say proud, of its crimes, and so eager to compensate the South for its losses by rebellion. It will be time enough to confide in them after the Democratic party shall have ceased to be controlled by Confederate soldiers and statesmen, and after the South shall have ceased to boast against those who would not permit its demagogues to destroy the Union and "sit down" on the Constitution. It is idle to talk about the checks and balances of Northern Union Democrats. The policy of the Democratic party is and always has been and always will be regulated and dictated by the Southern Senators and Representatives in Congress. Of the forty-one Democrats now in the Senate twenty-three are Southerners, and of the 147 Democratic Representatives eighty-six are from the same States. Nearly all of these took a hand with the Confederacy, and hold precisely the same views now they did in 1861. What respect they had for the Federal Constitution and laws regulating the political rights of citizens of the United States may readily be known from the single fact that South Carolina, Louisiana, Florida and Mississippi, with honest Republican majorities, ranging from ten thousand to forty thousand, has but one Senator (Bruce of Mississippi), and not one Representative in Congress, and that every Southern State has a Democratic Governor, who either took part as an officer in the Confederate army, or to the extent of his ability lent aid and comfort to that army. If they go these lengths without controlling the Presidency, what would they not do with that office in the hands of one of their Northern creatures? California was true to the Union and the cause of human right all through the war. She has not since 1861 failed in her loyalty to the Republican party at a Presidential election. She cannot afford to fail now. She has everything to lose or to risk by it, and nothing to gain. She will declare for Garfield and Arthur by as great a majority as she gave Lincoln over McClellan, if she is wise.

President Hayes.

President Hayes and General Sherman will arrive in Reno to-day about noon. Every possible honor and courtesy should be shown the President. Of course everybody will want to see the President, and the Depot platform will not be large enough to accommodate the curious.

The Garfield and Arthur Club, at the meeting last night, appointed J. S. Shoemaker, C. S. Varian, C. C. Powning, R. L. Fulton a Committee to receive the President and bid him welcome. The band, it was stated, had kindly volunteered to assist. The Committee have a meeting this morning at Osburn & Shoemaker's store.

For Sheriff.

Ed. Vesey is a candidate for Sheriff, subject to the Democratic Convention. Mr. Vesey is well known in this county and if elected would make an efficient officer.

Commissioners.

The Commissioners were in session yesterday, but after allowing a few bills and granting two or three road petitions adjourned until the 20th.

J. P. Foulks and Nels Hammond are said to be candidates for the long-term Commissionership: John Douglas, of Franktown, for Assessor; G. W. Sawyer and E. Olinghouse, of Wadsworth, and Nat Holmes, for Short-term Commissioners.

The Sacramento Presidential Reception Committee forwarded a supply of the choicest California fruit to Ogden, so that the Presidential party might have a foretaste of what was before them in the Golden State.

The new school house was visited on Sunday by many people, all of whom were well pleased with it. The rooms are large, airy and clear, and will prove much more convenient and pleasant than the old quarters.

We suggest that the Republican Convention which meets in the Theater at 10 this morning, organize, and then adjourn in a body to the depot to greet the Republican President. It would be a befitting compliment.

The Reno Athletic Club makes no fuss, but goes right along on the even tenor of their way. Several of the members are already quite expert at the various exercises.

A fugitive newspaper paragraph says that the Central Pacific intends to put a car on each passenger train for the use of Chinese exclusively.

Thunder clouds have been hovering around for two or three days, but they have failed to come to a head so far.

Sanders & Neale have just received a fine lot of baby carriages. There is every kind and variety among them.

The gunboat for Salt River is being overhauled and put in thorough repair for the regular Fall trips.

Considerable complaint is made that watermelon patches suffer during these dark nights.

A. C. Neale and family leave soon on a trip to the coast.

Miners' Union Picnic.

On Sunday last the Virginia City Miners' Union held its picnic at Treadway's Park, Carson. Twenty-four carloads of excursionists came down from the Comstock and this crowd was swelled by Carson and Reno. The Park was well filled and soon the various games were in full blast. Probably the most attractive feature was the baseball match between the Resolutes of Virginia, and the Socials of Carson. These two clubs have been matched against each other before and the rivalry created has become so intense that all knew the game would be for "blood." The handsome silver water set added zest to the game. Betting was lively, with the Resolutes 2 to 1 in the pools. The Appeal says that thousands of dollars were staked upon it. The imported catcher, Barnie, of the Socials, was ruled out because of not having been eight days in the State. Thus handicapped the game commenced, and for the two hours and a half occupied it was watched closely by over a thousand spectators. It was by far the best game ever played in the State. The Socials were not under good control, while the Resolutes moved like clock-work. The game was played carefully throughout and but few real bad plays were made. The score stood: Resolutes, 5; Socials, 0. There is a possibility of the two clubs meeting again next Sunday, when Barnie will not be barred and a purse of $100 a side be put up.

Delegates.

Following are the delegates elect to the Democratic County Convention which meets on Saturday. We give the vote received by the Reno delegation:

Wadsworth—J. O. Gregory, Wm. Nichols, F. L. Gladding, E. T. Bailey.

Run Over.

Shortly after the alarm of fire was sounded last night a crowd assembled on the Virginia and Second street corner, when suddenly two horsemen came rushing through, bent only on getting to the fire, and perfectly indifferent as to the safety of the people. Many were roughly knocked aside or thrown down, but without serious injury to any one except Mon. Masson, the Frenchman, who was forcibly thrown down and hit by the horses. His right leg was badly bruised and his left arm was trampled upon. We saw him shortly after the fire and found him in a great deal of pain and unable to walk without assistance. The wretches who were so reckless should be severely dealt with, if found out.

Republican Convention.

The Republican County Convention will meet at the Theatre at 10 o'clock for the purpose of nominating a county ticket. It is the general desire among the delegates and other members of the party to see a good ticket nominated. The feeling is that the contest will be a close one, and that no man should be nominated who cannot be elected. We trust that the deliberations of the Convention will be characterized by fairness and justice.

District Court.

The District Court opened yesterday for the September term, Judge King, presiding. The day was occupied in setting the calendar. The trial of Barney Fitzgerald for the murder of Tom Laswell is set for Sept. 13. J. J. Quinn, for the assault with intent to kill S. Beamer, will be tried Sept. 16. Court will be in session to-day and every day for the next two months.

The Central Pacific Railroad will tomorrow issue round-trip tickets to San Francisco and back, from all main stations, at a reduction of one-third off regular rates. The tickets will be void after the following Sunday, the 12th instant. The occasion is the celebration in San Francisco of California's Admission to the Union. Round-trip tickets from Reno will be sold at $22 35.

The Pioneer contemplate giving the usual picnic soon. The old boys know how to enjoy such things as well as anybody.

Going to Reno.

The Eureka Sentinel of Saturday last has the following:

Mr. H. Muller, of Parton & Co., departs this morning for Reno. He goes over to give the new bank at that place a start, intending to be absent not longer than two months. He still retains his banking interest here, and will be back as soon as the new bank at Reno gets to running smoothly, and in the proper groove. Mr. Muller is one of Eureka's oldest and best known business men, and his many friends here will be glad to learn that his absence from our midst will be but temporary. The Reno business public, to whom the Sentinel takes pleasure in introducing him, will find in Mr. Muller an affable and thoroughly reliable gentleman. The Sentinel wishes him a pleasant stay among the people of Reno.

Fire in Chinatown.

At quarter of eight last evening a fire broke out in Chinatown, and was not extinguished until half the place had been destroyed. The origin of the fire is not exactly known, though the general belief is that it was caused by the bursting of a lamp. The fire boys with the hand engine and steamers, were on the ground as soon as possible, and did good work. The Chinese estimate the loss between ten and fifteen thousand dollars. Of the buildings burned all belonged to Chinamen except four, which were the property of D. H. Haskell and A. H. Manning, whose loss is $1,000.

Club Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Reno Garfield and Arthur Club was held last evening at Reform Club-Hall.

A committee was appointed to receive the President.

It was decided to hold regular meetings every Monday night hereafter until the close of the campaign.

Judge Adkison, of Virginia, being present, was called upon for a few remarks, and in response made a rattling speech, which was loudly applauded.

Personal.

Gov. Kinkaid, Lieut.-Gov. Adams, Mayor Stephens, Hon. C. C. Stevenson, District Attorney Harris and Judge Adkison came down on the V. & T. R. R. last evening to meet President Hayes and welcome him to the State and Comstock.

The Athletes of Reno.

Members of the Athletic Club will do well to be in attendance at the regular class this evening, as the exercises will be conducted by an experienced turner now visiting in town. Friends of the club are always welcome at the hall.

Busy times at the Fair Grounds. The horses there are being trained for the coming races, and unusually good contests may be expected. The entire Fair promises to be one of unusual merit.

Cole's circus, while here, was assessed for $10,000. The tax was paid. This is the only county that got that advantage of the show.

Harmon Wright has an unusually large crop of watermelons this year.

The doctors report Reno as distressingly healthy.

Judge King made three citizens yesterday.
